App Being Review: Dude How High Am I?_____

Overall Comments:
Clever idea. Sharing your elevation works really smoothly. A few bugs to work out, but looking good so far.

Response to Dev. Teams Wishes:

No requests from dev team.

Usage Problems/Concerns:
- It's a little weird that when the main page is completely blank to start with, but it makes sense after you take a picture.   What will go in the space beforehand?
- Pencil icon on the menu doesn't do anything yet?
- Processing is pretty slow (when you take a picture, it takes its time getting you back to the home page with your elevation)

Bugs Found & How To Reproduce:
- If you open the camera and then close it without submitting a picture, the entire app crashes.
- If you rotate or leave the app and come back, you see the elevation label twice on the picture
- If you try to delete once you have 2 elevation labels on screen, the app crashes. Upon reopening the app, the picture is deleted, as expected.

Suggestions:
Maybe have the camera button on the main page (not just in the menu bar) if there's no picture to display?